

Faculty Review of Open eTextbooks

The California Open Educational Resources Council has designed and implemented a faculty review process of the free and open etextbooks showcased within the California Open Online Library for Education (www.cool4ed.org). Faculty from the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California were invited to review the selected free and open etextbooks using a rubric. Faculty received a stipend for their efforts and funding was provided by the State of California, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Does the textbook use a clear, consistent terminology to present its subject matter?		X
Does the textbook reflect current knowledge of the subject matter?		X
Does the textbook present its subject matter in a culturally sensitive manner? (e.g. Is the textbook free of offensive and insensitive examples? Does it include examples that are inclusive of a variety of races, ethnicities, and backgrounds?)			X

Total Points: 8 out of 30

Please provide comments on any aspect of the subject matter of this textbook:

- The coverage is very spotty, and case studies are arbitrary selected. In general, the coverage is superficial and full of errors.
- Much of the content comes from wikipedia. The writing is often disjunctive and verbose. For example, the end of the Impressionism entry reads: "These traits—establishment of a working method integral to the art, establishment of a movement or visible active core of support, and international adoption—would be repeated by artistic movements in the Modern period in art."
- The writing is unclear and wordy, and contains factual and terminological errors, e.g. the separation of the Impressionists from the "Modern" period.
- The book does provide some images and review questions, although the latter are often too general to be of real use.

Instructional Design (35 possible points)	N/A (0 pts)	Very Weak (1pt)	Limited (2 pts)	Adequate (3pts)	Strong (4 pts)	Superior (5 pts)
Does the textbook present its subject materials at appropriate reading levels for undergrad use?			X
Does the textbook reflect a consideration of different learning styles? (e.g. visual, textual?)			X
Does the textbook present explicit learning outcomes aligned with the course and curriculum?			X

Does the textbook reflect best practices in the instruction of the designated course?		X
Does the textbook contain sufficient effective ancillary materials? (e.g. test banks, individual and/or group activities or exercises, pedagogical apparatus, etc.)			X
Is the textbook searchable?		X

Total Points: 11 out of 35

Please provide comments on any aspect of the instructional design of this textbook:

- The order of the chapters is not clear. For example, clicking on "Previous Concept" from the Neoclassicism module leads to 20th century African art, an entry that is copied in its entirety from wikipedia. Clicking on "Next Concept" brings us to Rococo, which should (even according to the textbook's text) precede Neoclassicism.
- Some quizzes only contain one question and can only be used with an account.

Editorial Aspects (25 possible points)	N/A (0 pts)	Very Weak (1pt)	Limited (2 pts)	Adequate (3pts)	Strong (4 pts)	Superior (5 pts)
Is the language of the textbook free of grammatical, spelling, usage, and typographical errors?		X
Is the textbook written in a clear, engaging style?			X
Does the textbook adhere to effective principles of design? (e.g. are pages laid out and organized to be clear and visually engaging and effective? Are colors, font, and typography consistent and unified?)				X
Does the textbook include conventional editorial features? (e.g. a table of contents, glossary, citations and further references)			X
How effective are multimedia elements of the textbook? (e.g. graphics, animations, audio)		X

Total Points: 9 out of 25

Please provide comments on any editorial aspect of this textbook.

- The textbook does contain links to definitions of new terms, which are on the whole accurate.
- There are no citations and much of the content comes from Wikipedia.

Usability (25 possible points)	N/A (0 pts)	Very Weak (1pt)	Limited (2 pts)	Adequate (3pts)	Strong (4 pts)	Superior (5 pts)
