

Faculty Review of Open eTextbooks

The California Open Educational Resources Council has designed and implemented a faculty review process of the free and open etextbooks showcased within the California Open Online Library for Education (www.cool4ed.org). Faculty from the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California were invited to review the selected free and open etextbooks using a rubric. Faculty received a stipend for their efforts and funding was provided by the State of California, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

- Again, there is little in the way of engaging the student here. The cases are long and drawn out rather than giving the student the essence of the case as an example of the premise being taught.

Please provide comments on any aspect of access concerning this textbook.

- I would want to have this available in traditional and non-traditional formats for ease of use by students. Because the book is so bulky, it would be difficult for a student to copy.
